Privacy Policy

Project Beacon Ltd (ABN 40693933032) and its related bodies corporate ("we", "our", or "us") are committed to the protection of your personal information (as defined in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) ("Privacy Act")). This document is our privacy policy ("Privacy Policy") which tells you how we collect and manage your personal information, and it has been designed to ensure that your personal information is protected and handled in accordance with applicable laws. This policy is also for the purpose of satisfying any relevant obligations under the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 (EU).

This Privacy Policy applies to the personal information and data collected by Project Beacon through the use of Project Beacon websites by customers and users and the products and services offered by Project Beacon ("Products and Services"). Project Beacon websites include but are not limited to the following:

https://projectbeacon.org.au

This Privacy Policy explains how Project Beacon may collect, use, process, disclose and protect your information, including personal information.

1. Your Personal Information – what is it?

The Privacy Act regulates how personal information is handled. In this Privacy Policy, the term "personal information" has the meaning given in the Privacy Act, which is information or an opinion, whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable. This may include an individual's name, address, telephone number, email address, credit card details, account number, and profession or occupation. If the information we collect personally identifies you, or you are reasonably identifiable from it, the information will be considered personal information.

2. Who are we?

Project Beacon's goal is to bring the world of STEM directly into the hands of young student innovators. Our interactive, curriculum-aligned workshops aim to teach students the fundamentals of robotics, from manufacturing through to programming and testing. Our workshops are built around students creating robots they can take home, inspiring continual experimentation and future learning.

3. For what purposes does Project Beacon collect, hold, use and disclose your personal information?

Project Beacon's primary purpose for collecting personal information is to supply customers or users with the Products and Services, and products and services supplied by Project Beacon's suppliers and partners. Project Beacon only collects personal information where the information is necessary for Project Beacon to perform its business functions or activities.

4. What types of personal information does Project Beacon collect?

4.1 The types of personal information Project Beacon collects from you or about you depend on the transaction you have entered into with us, the Products and Services that Project Beacon offers or has been contracted to provide, and the Products or Services you, your agents or your organisation are interested in. Depending on the above, Project Beacon may collect the following types of personal information:

- name;
- mailing or street address;
- email address, telephone number;
- age or birth date;
- system access passwords;
- profession, occupation or job title;
- details of the products and services you have purchased from us or which you have enquired about, together with any additional information necessary to deliver those products and services and to respond to your enquiries;
- credit card and banking details;
- any additional information relating to you that you provide to us directly through any Project Beacon Website or indirectly through use of any Project Beacon Website or online presence, through our agents or representatives or otherwise;
- information about the use of any Project Beacon Website such as the date, time and duration of a visit, the pages accessed, the IP address of your computer, and any information downloaded;
- subject to clause 4.4 below, health information; and
- information you provide to us through our service centre, customer surveys or visits by our representatives from time to time.

4.2 By accessing or using any Project Beacon Website and/or the Products and Services, or otherwise contacting Project Beacon or its representatives, you consent to the collection of your information as provided for in this Privacy Policy.

4.3 Project Beacon does not collect or retain excessive amounts of personal information.

4.4 Project Beacon only collects health information if that is necessary for the purposes of assessing, maintaining or managing your health. We apply additional safeguards for health information to ensure it is stored and processed securely. Access to health information is restricted to authorised personnel only.

5. When and how does Project Beacon collect your personal information?

5.1 Personal information is only collected by lawful and fair means in accordance with the applicable laws.

5.2 Project Beacon collects your personal information in ways including:

- from information that you or your nominated representatives (eg parent or guardian) provide to us when purchasing goods or services from Project Beacon or enquiring into their purchase;
- online contact forms;
- through your access and use of any Project Beacon website including account registration;
- through your use of telephone or other electronic devices, or otherwise connecting to Project Beacon's systems in order to enable you to use our services;

- during conversation or written correspondence between you, your agent or representative and Project Beacon representatives including electronic correspondence;
- when financial transactions are conducted with Project Beacon through any Project Beacon Website;
- through subscription to a company mailing list;
- through website cookies used to collect website usage information on any Project Beacon Website; or
- publicly available sources.

5.3 Project Beacon may hold your personal information in electronic and/or hard copy form.

6. How do we process your personal data?

6.1 Project Beacon Websites may contain links to other websites operated by third parties. We make no representations or warranties in relation to the privacy practices of any third party website and we are not responsible for the privacy policies or the content of any third party website. Third party websites are responsible for informing you about their own privacy practices.

6.2 Project Beacon takes appropriate technical measures to keep your personal information up to date; to store and protect it securely; to protect it from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and improper disclosure.

7. What is the legal basis for processing your personal information?

Project Beacon will process personal information from individuals only if is lawful. Fully complying with Article 6 of the GDPR.
The legal bases of Project Beacon for processing your personal information are:

- You have given consent to the processing of your personal information for one or more specific purposes;
- Processing is necessary for the performance of a contract with you or to take steps to enter into a contract;
- Processing is necessary for compliance with an applicable legal obligation;
- Processing is necessary for the legitimate interests of Project Beacon or a third party, except where such interests are overridden by your interests, rights or freedoms.

8. Disclosure of your personal information

8.1 Project Beacon will not disclose, rent or sell your personal information except as provided for in this Privacy Policy.

8.2 Project Beacon will disclose your personal information as necessary to operate the Project Beacon Websites and/or provide the Services. This will include disclosing information to third parties including those to whom we outsource certain functions of the Project Beacon Websites or the Services.

8.3 Project Beacon may disclose your personal information to your parent or guardian if you are younger than 16 years old.

8.4 The personal information that Project Beacon collects is disclosed to third parties:

9. How to access, correct or update, or erase your information?

9.1 Project Beacon is committed to maintaining accurate, timely, relevant and appropriate information about our customers and website users;

9.2 You may request access to any personal information we hold about you at any time by contacting us at support@projectbeacon.org.au. Where we hold information that you are entitled to access, we will try to provide you with suitable means of accessing it (for example, by mailing or emailing it to you).

9.3 If you believe that personal information we hold about you is incorrect, inaccurate or outdated, you may request us to correct it by contacting us at support@projectbeacon.org.au. We will attempt to correct or update information upon receiving written advice from you. To ensure confidentiality, details of your personal information will only be passed on if we are satisfied that the information relates to you.

9.4 There may be instances where we cannot grant you access to the personal information we hold. For example, we may need to refuse your access if granting access would unreasonably interfere with the privacy of others or would result in a breach of confidentiality. If we refuse to provide you with access or correct the personal information held about you by us, then we will provide reasons for such refusal.

10. How to access, correct or update, or erase your information?

10.1 Project Beacon retains the information you provide to us to enable us to verify transactions and customer details and to retain adequate records for legal and accounting purposes.

10.2 Project Beacon will keep some forms of information for longer than others. We normally hold your personal information for a period no longer than two years, unless there are specific requirements for keeping such personal information as permitted by law, or any request from the owner of the data indicates otherwise. When data is no longer required it is appropriately destroyed. A Data Retention Policy is available here: data retention policy, which outlines the procedure to be used for retention and the disposal of personal information.

10.3 Personal information is destroyed or de-identified when no longer required for any of the purposes as described under this Privacy Policy or for which it may otherwise be lawfully used or disclosed.

11. Further processing

11.1 If we wish to use your personal information for purposes other than those set out in this Privacy Policy, then we will provide you with a notice explaining this new use prior to commencing the processing.
11.2 If we wish to change how we handle the personal information as described in this Privacy Policy in ways that may importantly affect you, we will update this Privacy Policy and publish the updated Privacy Policy on Project Beacon Websites.

12. What is the process for complaining about a breach of privacy

12.1 If you have any question, any concerns or complaint about your privacy or possible breach of your policy under the Privacy Act, you can contact us or make a complaint at support@projectbeacon.org.au and provide details of the incident so that we can investigate it.

12.2 On receipt of any complaint, Project Beacon will endeavour to address that issue and respond in a timely manner.

12.3 If you are not satisfied with our response, you can refer your complaint to external dispute resolution scheme (if applicable). We suggest you contact Project Beacon with your complaint before seeking this external assistance.

12.4 If Project Beacon does not respond to your complaint within 30 days or you are not happy with Project Beacon's response, you can lodge a complaint with the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner either by:

- mailing it to GPO Box 5288, Sydney NSW; or
- faxing it to +61 2 6123 5145.

13. How to contact Project Beacon?

If you have any information about our Privacy Policy, please contact us on 1300 667 945 or at support@projectbeacon.org.au

14. Cookies and Web Beacons

14.1 Cookies are text files placed on your computer to collect standard internet log information and visitor behaviour information. This information is used to track visitor use of the website and to compile statistical reports on website activity.

You have the option to opt-out of non-essential cookies through our website's cookie settings. Additionally, you can modify your browser settings to control cookie behaviour or use a third-party tool to block tracking technologies. (To learn how to remove cookies visit www.allaboutcookies.org). Disabling cookies may affect website functionality and some of our website features may not function as a result.

14.2 Web beacons are images that originate from a third party site to track visitor activities. We may use web beacons to track the visiting patterns of individuals accessing our Website.

15. Changes to our Privacy Policy

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time and it is accessible from Project Beacon Websites. You should check Project Beacon Websites regularly for the updated Privacy Policy. Your continued access or use of any Project Beacon Website and/or the Products or Services will be deemed an acceptance of the updated Privacy Policy provided on the Project Beacon Website at the time of each use.

Where this Privacy Policy has been provided to you together with additional terms for the use of a Product or Service that you have subscribed to or registered for, the provisions of those terms will apply.

This Privacy Policy was last updated on 12/02/2026